

CALL FOR INSTITUTE OF CLINICAL TRIAL FELLOWSHIP

The University of Galway is pleased to announce the Clinical Trial Fellowship, available to students enrolled full-time in the MSc in Clinical Research program. This 11-month fellowship offers hands-on experience across various disciplines, including clinical practice, data management, quality assurance, and research support.

Benefits:

- Gain a deeper understanding of clinical research processes.
- Learn practical conduct and clinical research guidelines.
- Develop data entry and management skills.
- Receive a stipend of €1,000 per month for the duration of the fellowship.

Eligibility:

- Full-time MSc in Clinical Research students at the University of Galway.
- High-achieving, suitably qualified, and dynamic individuals with a strong drive and passion for gaining skills and knowledge in the clinical trials environment.

How to Apply:

- The fellowship is open to registered MSc in Clinical Research students.
- The award will be based on a review of the Clinical Trial Fellowship Application Form (available on the website).
- Selected fellows will work alongside the research team, receive training, and be involved in a wide range of tasks.

To apply, please complete the Clinical Trial Fellowship Application Form and submit it along with your application to the MSc in Clinical Research program. This form should be submitted as part of the "Supporting Documentation."

Deadline:

- Application Deadline: May 26th.
- Decision Announcement: Mid-June.

We look forward to receiving your application.
