

Michael McNicholas is an experienced Chief Executive leading and managing large complex organisations with deep knowledge of the utility industry, renewable energy, transformational change, infrastructure investment, corporate transactions and regulation. A capable leader and strategic thinker, with strong communication and influencing skills and a track record of delivery.

Michael is Managing Director – Asset Management of OMERS Infrastructure. He is former CEO of Ervia and of NTR plc, former Managing Director of ESB International. His non-executive Director and advisory roles include: Ellevio (Sweden), Groendus (Netherlands), Thames Water (UK), PM Group and Irish Management Institute (Ireland).

He is a University of Galway Alumni Award winner in Business & Engineering.